CHAPTER XXXIV.

"I'll tell you about it later, dear," was all that Peggy, pleading, could draw from him.

At midnight Mrs. Dan had been re-monstrated with her. "You must go home, Peggy, dear," she said. "It is disgraceful for you to stay up so late. I went to bed at 8 o'clock the night before I was married."

"And fell asleep at 4 in the morning," smiled Peggy.

"You are quite mistaken, my dear. I did not fall asleep at all. But I won't allow you to stop a minute longer. It puts rings under the eyes, and sometimes they're red the morning after."

"Oh, you dear sweet philosopher," cried Peggy, "how wise you are! Do you think I need a beauty sleep?"

"I don't want you to be a sleepy beauty, that's all," retorted Mrs. Dan. Upon Monty's return from his trying hour with the lawyers he had been besieged with questions, but he was cleverly evasive. Peggy alone was insistent. She had curbed her curiosity until they were on the way home, and then she implored him to tell her what had happened. The misery he had endured was as nothing to this reckoning with the woman who had the right to expect fair treatment. His duty was clear, but the strain had been heavy, and it was not easy to meet it.

"Peggy, something terrible has happened," he faltered, uncertain of his course.

"Tell me everything, Monty. You can trust me to be brave."

"When I asked you to marry me," he continued gravely, "it was with the thought that I could give you everything tomorrow. I looked for a fortune. I never meant that you should marry a pauper."

"I don't understand. You tried to test my love for you?"

"No, child, not that. But I was pledged not to speak of the money I expected, and I wanted you so much before it came."

"And it has failed you?" she answered. "I can't see that it changes things. I expected to marry a pauper, as you call it. Do you think this could make a difference?"

"But you don't understand, Peggy. I haven't a penny in the world."

"You hadn't a penny when I accepted you," she replied. "I am not afraid. I believe in you, and if you love me I shall not give you up."

"Dearest!" And the carriage was at the door before another word was uttered. But Monty called to the coachman to drive just once around the block.

"Good night, my darling," he said when they reached home. "Sleep till 8 o'clock if you like. There is nothing now in the way of having the wedding now instead of at 7. In fact, I have a reason for wanting my whole fortune to come to me then. You will be all that I have in the world, child, but I am the happiest man alive."

In his room the strain was relaxed, and Brewster faced the bitter reality. Without undressing he threw himself upon the lounge and wondered what the world held for him. It had been enough. But had he been fair to her? Was he right in exacting a sacrifice? His tired brain whirled in the effort to decide. Only one thing was clear—that he could not give her up. The future grew black at the very thought of it. With her he could make things so different. It was another matter, it would take the plunge, and he would justify it. His mind went traveling back over the carefree year, and he suddenly realized that he had forfeited the confidence of men who were worth while. His course in profligacy would not be considered the best training for business. The thought nerved him to action. He must make good. Peggy had faith in him. She came to him when everything was against him, and he would slave for her, he would starve, he would do nothing to prove that she was not mistaken in him. She at least should know him for a man.

Looking toward the window, he saw the black, uneasy night give way to the coming day. Haggard and faint, he arose from the couch to watch the approach of the sun that is indifferent to wealth and poverty, to gaiety and dejection. From far off in the gray light there came the sound of a 5 o'clock bell. A little later the shrieks of factory whistles were borne to his ears, muffled by distance, but pregnant with the importance of a new day of toil. They were calling him, with all poor men, to the sweatshop and the forge, to the great mill of life. The new era had begun, dawning bright and clear to disperse the gloom in his soul. Leaning against the casement and wondering where he could earn the first dollar for the Peggy Brewster that was Peggy Gray, he rose to meet it with a fine unflinching fearlessness.

Before 7 o'clock he was downstairs and waiting. Joe Bragdon joined him a bit later, followed by Gardner and the minister. The DeMilles appeared without an invitation, but they were not denied. Mrs. Dan sagely shook her head when told that Peggy was still asleep and that the ceremony was off till 9 o'clock.

"Monty, are you going away?" asked Dan, drawing him into a corner. "Just a week in the hills," answered Monty, suddenly remembering the generosity of his attorneys.

"Come in and see me as soon as you return, old man," said DeMille, and Monty knew that a position would be open to him.

To Mrs. Dan fell the honor of helping Peggy dress. By the time she had had coffee and was ready to go down she was pink with excitement and had quite forgotten the anxiety which had made the night an age.

She had never been prettier than on her wedding morning. Her color was rich, her eyes as clear as stars, her woman's body the picture of grace and health. Monty's heart leaped high with love of her.

"The prettiest girl in New York, by Jove!" gasped Dan DeMille, clutching Bragdon by the arm.

"And look at Monty! He's become a new man in the last five minutes," added Joe. "Look at the glow in his cheeks! He's beginning to look as he did a year ago."

A clock chimed the hour of 9.

"The man who was here yesterday is in the hall to see Mr. Brewster," said the maid a few minutes after the minister had uttered the words that gave Peggy a new name. There was a moment of silence, almost of dread.

"You mean the fellow with the beard?" asked Monty uneasily.

"Yes, sir. He sent in this letter, begging you to read it at once."

"Shall I send him away, Monty?" demanded Bragdon defiantly. "What does he mean by coming here at this time?"

"I'll read the letter first, Joe." Every eye was on Brewster as he tore open the envelope. His face was expressive. There was wonder in it, then incredulity, then joy. He threw the letter to Bragdon, clasped Peggy in his arms spasmodically and then, releasing her, dashed for the hall like one bereft of reason.

"It's Nipper Harrison!" he cried, and a moment later the tall visitor was dragged into the circle. Nipper was quite overcome by the heartiness of his welcome.

"You are an angel, Nipper. God bless you!" said Monty, with convincing emphasis. "Joe, read that letter aloud and then advertise for the return of those Boston terrorists!"

Bragdon's hands trembled and his voice was not sure as he translated the scrawl, Nipper Harrison standing behind him for the gleeful purpose of prompting him when the writing was beyond the range of human intelligence.

Holland House, Sept. 23, 19--.
Mr. Montgomery Brewster:
My Dear Monty--So you thought I had given you the slip, eh? Didn't think I'd show up here and do my part? Well, I don't blame you. I suppose I've acted like an idiot, but so long as it turns out O. K. there's no harm done. The wolf won't gnaw very much of a hole in your door, I reckon. This letter introduces my secretary, Mr. Oliver Harrison. He came to me last June out in Butte with the prospect of a claim he had staked out up in the mountains. What he wanted was backing, and he had such a good show to win out that I went into cahoots with him. He's got a mine up there that he's dead sure to yield millions. Seems as though he has to give you half of the yield, though. Says you grubstaked him. Good fellow, this Harrison. Needed a secretary and man of affairs, so took him into my office. You can see that he did not take me up into the mountains to murder me, as the papers say this morning. All rot. Nobody's business but my own if I concluded to come east without telling everybody in Butte about it.

I am here, and so is the money. Got in last night. Harrison came from Chicago a day ahead of me. I went to office of G. & R. at 8 this morning. Found them in a stew. Thought I'd skipped out or been murdered; money all gone; everything gone to smash. That's what they thought. Don't blame 'em much. You see, it was this way. I concluded to follow out the terms of the will and deliver the goods in person. I got together a lot of Jim Sedgewick's stuff and did a lot of other fool things, I suppose, and hiked off to New York. You'll find about $7,000.00 worth of stuff to your credit when you endorse the certified checks down at Grant & Ripley's, my boy. It's all here and in the banks.

It's a mighty decent sort of wedding gift, I reckon.

The lawyers told me all about you—told me all about last night and that you were going to be married this morning. By the time you're comparatively happy with the bride, I guess I looked over your report and took a few peeps at the receipts. They're all right. I'm satisfied. The money is yours. Then I got to thinking that maybe you wouldn't care to come down at 9 o'clock, especially as you are just recovering from the joy of being married, so I settled with the lawyers, and they'll settle with you. If you have nothing in particular to do this afternoon about 2 o'clock I'd suggest that you come to the hotel, and we'll dispose of a few formalities that the law requires of us. And you can give me some lessons in spending money. I've got a little I'd like to miss some morning. As for your ability as a business man, I have this to say: Any man who can spend a million a year and have nothing to show for it, he's in a class by himself, and it's a business that no one else can give him a pointer about.

I'm sorry you've been worried about all this. You have gone through a good deal

Nipper was quite overcome by the heartiness of his welcome.

In a year, and you have been roasted by everybody. Now it's your turn to laugh. It will surprise them to read the "extent" today. I've done my duty to you in more ways than one. I've got myself interviewed by the newspapers, and today they'll print the whole truth about Montgomery Brewster and his millions. They've got the Sedgewick will and my story, and the old town will be all excitement. I guess you'll be squared before the world all right. You'd better stay in doors for awhile, though, if you want to have a quiet honeymoon.

I don't like New York; never did. Am going back to Butte tonight. Out there we have real skyscrapers, any way are not built of brick. They are two or three miles high, and they have gold in 'em. There is real grass in the lowlands, and we have valleys that make Central park look like a half an inch of sod. Probably you & Mrs. Brewster were going to take a wedding trip, so why not go west with me in my car? We start at 7:45 p. m., and I won't bother you. Then you can take it anywhere you like. Sincerely yours,

SWEARENGEN JONES.
P. S.—I forgot to say that there is no such man as Golden. I bought your mines and ranches with my own money. You may buy them back at the same figures. I'd advise you to do it. They'll be worth twice as much in a year. I hope you'll forgive the whims of an old man who has liked you from the start.

THE END.

Edward Seeking Health.

Ischl, Austria, Aug. 16.—King Edward, who is going to Marienbad to take the cure, was the guest last night of Emperor Francis Joseph. There is no political significance attached to the meeting of the two monarchs. King Edward proceeded to Marienbad today.

WITH ONE ACCORD

Peace Envoys Unanimously
Agree to "Open Door" in China.

CRISIS APPROACHING

There Are Other Points Upon Which Unanimity Can Not Be Expected and Deadlock May Follow.

On the Other Hand However There
Is a Feeling That Compromise
May Be Reached.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 16.—The crisis in the peace negotiations upon which the eyes of the world are fastened is approaching rapidly, and the end of this week or the first of next at the latest should witness the deadlock and the end, if the conference is to go to pieces. Two more of the twelve articles, Nos. 4 and 6, were disposed of yesterday. Article 4 consists of mutual pledges to observe the integrity of China and the policy of the "open door" for the commerce of all nations, and Article 6 covers the surrender of the Russian leases to the Liaotung peninsula, Port Arthur, Dalny and the Blonde and Elliott islands. To Article 4 both parties gave ready assent and the official statement of the adoption of that article took care to state that it was agreed to "unanimously." Article 5, the consideration of which was postponed until later, provides for the cession of the island of Sakhalin. Discussion appearing useless at this stage on account of the firm negative given in the Russian reply, it was decided upon the motion of the Japanese to defer its discussion, thus revealing the Japanese intention of postponing to the end the life and death struggle.

This is the usual procedure followed in diplomatic negotiations, enabling the negotiators to come to an accord upon all possible points before tackling the crucial issues, and the fact that the Russians acquiesced in the proposition shows that they, too, are as careful and as anxious as are the Japanese that the world should not accuse them of being responsible for precipitating the break. If break there is to be, and wrecking the conference. This in itself is a hopeful sign. Besides, by postponing the burning questions to the end the psychological moment for bargain and compromise arrives. Then hurriedly the last trump cards, and the game is done. And there is growing hope of compromise. To the closest observers the final solution begins to crystallize quite naturally—the Russians yielding the cession of Sakhalin, Japan foregoing the cost of the war; but taking compensation in the money to be refunded to Japan by China on account of the transfer to her of the Chinese Eastern railroad, the Russian government property in Port Arthur and Dalny and remuneration for the maintenance of the 100,000 Russian prisoners in Japan.

All questions relating to Korea and Manchuria except the cession of the Chinese Eastern railroad and the main Siberian line running through northern Manchuria from the station "Manchuria" on the Amur via Harbin to Vladivostok, are settled in the five articles already adopted. Some confusion has arisen about those articles, and the following resume can be accepted as absolutely accurate:

1. Recognition of Japan's "preponderating influence" in Korea, etc.
2. Mutual obligation to evacuate Manchuria, Russia to retrocede to China all special privileges, etc.
3. Japanese obligation to restore the sovereignty and administration of China in Manchuria.
4. Mutual obligations to respect the territorial and administrative integrity of China and the principle of the "open door."
5. The surrender of the Russian leases to the Liaotung peninsula, including Port Arthur, Dalny and the Blonde and Elliott islands.

The remaining seven articles (not given in numerical order) are: The cession of Sakhalin, reimbursement for the cost of the war, the cession to China of the Chinese Eastern railroad, the article relating to that portion of the main line of the Siberian railroad running through northern Manchuria, which includes provision for policing of the road by China and not by Russia, fishing rights on the Siberian coast north of Vladivostok to the Bering sea, the article affecting Russia's naval power in the far East, and that providing for the surrender of the Russian warships interned in far Eastern waters. To all of these Russia has more or less objection.

A HOPEFUL SIGN

Russia Notes Action of Peace Envoys
With Feelings of Relief.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 16.—The decision of the plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth to waive for the present consideration of the article relating to the island of Sakhalin and to proceed with the discussion of points that Russia is willing to accept as a basis of negotiations, is received here with some surprise and even relief by the Russian public generally. The postponement of the discussion of one of the two points on which the fate of the conference hangs is considered a good sign, but not a sure one, and the general opinion remains one of doubt, though pessimism is losing ground as the days pass without a rupture between the envoys.

The foreign office maintains complete reserve regarding the proceedings at Portsmouth, and all the news relating to the Portsmouth conference has been conveyed to the Russian public through the medium of press dispatches.

The idea is advanced at several of the embassies that an outlet may possibly be found in a compromise on the two main points of the dispute, if Japan is willing to give up Sakhalin and receive from Russia not a general war indemnity, but payment for any rights that may be acquired by virtue of occupation by the Japanese troops.

Anxious for a Fight.
Fusan, Aug. 16.—The Japanese army is anxious to commence operations. The higher officers do not believe that the military progress has been sufficient to justify the expectation that Russia will concede the terms necessarily required by Japan. If the war continues the nature of the country and of the conditions point to the likelihood that future operations will be restricted to the neighborhood of the railway. Wide turning movements as suggested in the European press, are not likely to be features of the campaign, nor is it possible that any great military results will ensue this year.

Severe Sentence Appealed.
Odessa, Aug. 16.—The military procurator has appealed against the decision of a courtmartial which sentenced two boys each to twenty years and a girl to thirteen years penal servitude for being in possession of explosives. The procurator asks for capital punishment.

Japs Get a Setback.
Godzyadani, Manchuria, Aug. 16.—Two Japanese torpedo boats bombarded Port Hazarevo (Port Lazareff, Korea). An attempt was then made to land troops, but they were beaten off by Russian chasseurs.

STARVING SPAIN

In Certain Districts the Distress Is Acute.

Seville, Spain, Aug. 16.—A commission of landed proprietors and farmers have laid before the authorities the conditions prevailing in and about Osona in Andalusia. They estimate that there are 5,000 workmen armed with rifles roaming about the country. The municipal authorities disclaim responsibility for this condition of affairs. The jails are crowded with persons who have committed no offense but who have given themselves up to the police on the pretense of having committed a crime in order to procure shelter and food. The charitable societies have exhausted their resources and government action is anxiously awaited.

The Mysterious Mr. Dove.
Chicago, Aug. 16.—State warrants have been reported by Justice Caverley naming George Lawrence, formerly employed as a chauffeur for various wealthy Chicagoans, as the murderer of William Bates, the young chauffeur whose dead body was found in the road two miles beyond Lemont at daylight on the morning of Nov. 19, 1904. Chief Collins is confident that at last he has identified the mysterious "Mr. Dove."

Philadelphia's Disgrace.
Philadelphia, Aug. 16.—According to a statement made by the director of the department of public safety based on a canvass made by the police, there are 60,085 names on the voting lists of this city which under the law have no right to be thereon. The assessors in all the voting divisions of the city will be asked to strike the alleged fraudulent names from the lists.

Two Men and Horse Killed.
Peru, Ind., Aug. 16.—John C. Howley and Ernest Campbell sought shelter from the storm by driving into a barn at Wynn, near here. Both men and the horse were killed by lightning. The barn was not damaged.

MOSQUITO THEORY

Cause of Yellow Fever Is Now Being Popularly Accepted.

AN EXPERT ARRIVES

Dr. John Guiteras Who Made Memorable Fight Against Yellow
Jack in Cuba On Scene.

He Is Making a Thorough and Scientific Investigation of Gulf Cities.

New Orleans, Aug. 16.—New cases yesterday, 62; total to date, 1,080; deaths yesterday, 6; total, 172; new foci, 19; total to date, 229.

New Orleans, Aug. 16.—The arrival of Dr. John Guiteras, the Cuban yellow fever expert, and his tour of the seat of worst infection, is the most interesting present feature of the yellow fever situation. Dr. Guiteras left Havana to make an inspection of the Gulf cities in connection with the Cuban quarantine and to offer his assistance in the campaign in progress here. He landed first in Florida, thence went to Mobile, inquired into conditions on the Gulf coast of Mississippi, and finally came here, his previous visit to New Orleans being in 1897, when there was also an appearance of yellow fever and when the mosquito theory had not been demonstrated.

On his arrival Dr. Guiteras went immediately to the offices of the marine hospital service for an interview with Surgeon White. Dr. White went at length into the conditions prevailing and described the progress of the campaign, saying that there was popular acceptance of the mosquito theory and that all interests were co-operating in the effort to control and if possible to eradicate the disease. Later Dr. Guiteras joined Drs. Corput and Richardson of the marine hospital staff for a tour of the old French market quarter where the fever first appeared, and where it has raged most fiercely. On every side he saw evidences of thoroughness with which the marine hospital service has conducted its fight to eliminate the mosquito from the district. Dr. Guiteras was thoroughly pleased with the results of his inspection and expects to see here universal acceptance of the mosquito theory at the end of the present campaign.

The situation shows an improvement both as to new cases and deaths, considering the totals of last week, and while the marine hospital officials are unwilling to be quoted now, they are known to entertain most hopeful views.

Echo of the Taggart Case.

Washington, Aug. 16.—It is now stated at the war department that charges were filed there last April against Major Taggart, who is suing his wife for divorce in Ohio, but no action has been taken upon the charges nor will anything be done until the termination of the present suit. The charges relate to matters out of which the divorce suit has grown. Taggart also filed charges against Col. Miner some time ago, but they were considered trivial and were dismissed.

An Exciting Race to Dock.

Block Island, R. I., Aug. 16.—The steamer New Shoreham while entering the harbor on her trip from Providence with 100 passengers, struck a sunken wreck and after an exciting run for the dock, sank to the main deck just as she ranged alongside the pier. The passengers were able to land over the usual gang plank.

Depositors Received Favors.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 16.—The books of the defunct German bank, just produced by court order for the inspection of the creditors' organization, show large amounts were withdrawn by a few depositors on the Saturday preceding the closing of the bank, and on Monday, Dec. 5, the day of the failure.

Reviving a Desert Sea.

San Bernardino, Cal., Aug. 16.—The entire flow of the Colorado river is now passing into the Salton Sink, and the water there is rising an inch every twenty-four hours.

OLD SORES

ROOTED IN THE BLOOD

Old Sores are the result of a deeply polluted, foul blood supply. The blood is filled with poisons, and as it finds an outlet through the ulcer, the surrounding parts become diseased and the sore eats deeper into the tissues and flesh and becomes a permanent trouble.

Some years ago while at work, I fell over a truck and severely injured both of my shins. My blood became poisoned as a result, and the doctor told me I would have running sores for life, and that if they were closed up the result would be fatal. Under this discouraging report I left off their treatment and resorted to the use of S. S. S. Its effects were prompt and gratifying. It took only a short while for the medicine to entirely cure up the sores, and I am not dead as the doctors intimated I would be, neither have the sores ever broken out again, and some twelve years have elapsed since what I have described occurred. Having been so signally benefited by its use I can heartily recommend it as the one great blood purifier. Wheeling, W. Va. J. W. FUNDIS.
Care Schmalback Brewing Co.

Salves, powders, plasters, etc., do no good, and the sufferer gets disgusted and often despairs of curing an old sore. The trouble is in the blood and until the poisonous matter that is keeping up the ulcer is driven out the place cannot heal. S. S. S. reaches these old sores through the blood by removing every particle of poison or impurity from the circulation and building up the system. It makes the blood healthy so that as it circulates to the diseased parts the tissues are strengthened and the sore can heal naturally and permanently. If you have an old sore or ulcer do not waste time with salves, powders, plasters, etc., but write for our book and ask for any medical advice you wish. We make no charge for either.

E. P. Bacon, of Milwaukee, chairman, was instructed to fix the date. The convention will meet for the purpose of giving expression to the public sentiment that is calling for an amendment to the interstate commerce law, which will give the commission power to compel reasonable rates.

The Start

In married life is generally made on an equal footing of health in man and wife. But how soon, in many cases, the wife loses the advantage and fades in face and falls in flesh, while her husband grows even more rugged and robust.

There is one chief cause for this lively failure and that is, the failure of the woman's health. When there is irregularity or an unhealthy drain, inflammation, ulceration or female weakness, the general health is soon impaired.

$500 REWARD!

FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Proflapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"A little over a year ago I wrote to you for advice," says Mrs. Elizabeth J. Fisher, of Diana, W. Va. "You advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did, and with the most happy result. I was troubled with female weakness and bearing-down pains. Had a very bad pain nearly all the time in my left side, nervousness and headache. So weak I could hardly walk across my room. Could not sit up any just a little while at a time. My husband got me some of Dr. Pierce's medicine and I began its use. Before I had taken two bottles I was able to help do my work. I used three bottles in all and it cured me. Now I do all my housework. It is the best medicine I ever used."

INSTITUTE.
Jackson County Teachers Receiving Profitable Instruction.

The Jackson County Teacher's Institute which began a five days session last Monday is said to be about the best ever held in the county. The attendance is good at every session the enrollment being nearly 200. The instructors are dealing with practical educational topics and the teachers are reaping the benefits.

Dr. Bryan's talk on different phases of pedagogy are an inspiration to his hearers. He is a teacher of large experience and acquainted with school-room problems. He knows how to teach and he knows how to be helpful to others.

Dr. F. C. English is handling historical subjects as related to the work of the common school teacher. All his talks are refreshing and beneficial to the teachers in the work that confronts them every day.

The lectures and entertainments each evening are well attended and in keeping with the work in hand. The township contest will be Wednesday night and in this five townships participate. Thursday night Dr. Bryan will lecture on "Civil Government in the Philippines."

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.
Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.
It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.
The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.
Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.
If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.
If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle Home of Swamp-Root, by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Conductor Cole's Train Makes A Remarkable Run.

On Monday B. & O. S. W. train No. 11 in charge of Conductor J. W. Cole, of this city, made a remarkably fast run. The train was delayed at Moores Hill on account of a wash out but the way it made up time was a caution. The Washington Herald gives the following account of the run.
"All records for long distance fast running were equalled and many broken Monday when Engineer Byron Robinson took the Mound City Limited on the B. & O. Southwestern from Washington to St. Louis in 157 minutes, actual running time. This is the best time ever made on the B. & O. Southwestern and compares favorably with the fast time made on eastern roads.
The Mound City Limited, which is train 11, arrived in Washington one hour and fifty-two minutes late. Robinson took the train with engine 1422, an eight-wheeler, with which he is reported to have made the phenomenal run of Monday a week ago, and left the relay depot at 5:29. All the regular stops were made and at 8:27 o'clock the train pulled into St. Louis, having consumed two hours and fifty-eight minutes. Twenty-two minutes of this time was taken up by the six regular stops. Deducting the time for stops from the time consumed in reaching St. Louis makes the actual running time 157 minutes.
This beats Robinson's own record of Monday a week ago when, according to the Cincinnati Enquirer, he made the run in 162 minutes. However railroad men and dispatchers here say they know nothing of any such run having been made and give the story in the Enquirer no credit. Conductor Cole of Seymour had charge of the train."

The Yoke
BY Elizabeth Miller
A romance of the days when the Lord delivered the Children of Israel from the bondage of Egypt.
Will Be Our Next Serial Story
Ranked with Ben Hur by Competent Authorities
REV. S. E. WISHARD, Synodical Missionary of the Presbyterian Synod of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah.
What BEN HUR has been to the public in setting forth the times of the Christ, THE YOKES will be in presenting the customs of Egypt and the thrilling events of Israel's bondage and deliverance.
REV. O. W. MCGAUGHEY, Central Christian Church, Columbus, Ind.
THE YOKES is almost unique in the realm of modern fiction. BEN HUR alone compares with it in subject matter and character.
REV. LUDVIG HOLMES, D. D., L. H. D., President Iowa Conference Lutheran Church, Portland, Conn.
The story as such is very captivating and retains an air of plausibility throughout. Except BEN HUR, I know no modern work that compares favorably with THE YOKES. It is beneficial in many respects and ought to be well received and appreciated by all classes.

Regimental Reunions and Forty Second Anniversary Battle Chickamauga, Chattanooga, September 17-21, 1905.
On September 18, 1905, will occur the forty-second anniversary of the Battle of Chickamauga. It is proposed to celebrate this memorable event with a reunion of the various regiments that participated in this memorable battle, and in addition, to hold at the same time, a grand reunion of all the regiments that participated in the various battles fought around Chattanooga. This reunion will be held at Chickamauga National Park, September 18, 19 and 20, and the present indications are that it will be the largest and most notable gathering ever held in the south. On the above dates, the remnants from the armies of twelve states, comprising the following: Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and Kentucky, will assemble, many for the first time since they marched from their blood-stained fields, forty-two years ago.
Grand and glorious will be the meeting and all who attend will have cause to rejoice. The lowest rate ever secured has been given the entire public for this occasion, one cent per mile, short line distance.
Here is one of the great opportunities for the education of the youth. Don't fail to take your children and show them historic Chattanooga, with all its historical connections. It is the opportunity of a lifetime. Go and see the old war generals and other officers point out the places of interest on the battlefield; let them show you and explain, in person, the markers erected on the battlefield showing the positions of the opposing armies at the time of battle. It will not be long until none will be left to do this noble work; take this opportunity and don't let it escape you. It is worth six months in the school room to any student.
It will be many years, if ever again, that such an opportunity will present itself. See that your tickets read via the Louisville & Nashville R. R., the Battlefield Route. Call on your nearest railroad agent for rates and advertising matter pertaining to the reunion or write nearest representative of the Louisville & Nashville R. R.

HENRY F. BRUNING,

Stolen From Seymour People in Michigan.

ANDERSON, Ind., August 15.—Mr. and Mrs. A. Strauss, of this city, who have returned from South Haven, Mich., say that an outing party they were with last week suffered heavily from robberies at the hotel where the entire party was lodging. While all were bathing in Lake Michigan their rooms at the hotel were plundered by an unknown robber who carried off diamonds valued at $800 and also $200 in cash.

Mrs. Bauer, of Indianapolis; Mrs. N. Kaufman, of Seymour, and Mrs. M. Herz, of New York, were the heaviest losers, and they remained at South Haven to appear as witnesses in a trial to identify the stolen property if found. A detective who was put to work on the case caused the arrest of a boy employed in the hotel, but none of the jewels and money could be located.

It has been learned Mrs. Kaufman lost about $50 in cash and about $300 worth of jewelry. Mrs. A. Bauer lost about $100 in cash and Mrs. Herz lost $50 in cash and about $500 worth of jewelry. The trial of the man suspected was held Tuesday but the result has not been learned here. Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman are expected home tomorrow.

Entertained.

Misses Minnie and Jane Easter entertained a company of their young friends last Wednesday evening at their home northeast of Reddington in honor of Misses Frances and Marie Teckemeyer, of Seymour, who were their guests the past week. There were games and different amusements during the evening that added to the enjoyment and merriment of the occasion. About fifteen guests were present.

Conviction Follows Trial

When buying loose coffee or anything your grocer happens to have in his bin, how do you know what you are getting? Some queer stories about coffee that is sold in bulk, could be told, if the people who handle it (grocers), cared to speak out.

Could any amount of mere talk have persuaded millions of housekeepers to use the leader of all package coffees for over a quarter of a century, if they had not found it superior to all other brands in Purity, Strength, Flavor and Uniformity?

Lion Coffee,

This popular success of LION COFFEE can be due only to inherent merit. There is no stronger proof of merit than continued and increasing popularity.

If the verdict of MILLIONS OF HOUSEKEEPERS does not convince you of the merits of LION COFFEE, it costs you but a trifle to buy a package. It is the easiest way to convince yourself, and to make you a PERMANENT PURCHASER.

LION COFFEE is sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages, and reaches you as pure and clean as when it left our factory.

Lion-head on every package. Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.

Worth More

Than Gold

Nuggets.

People can get along without gold, but they can't do without coal. Of course you can use wood but generally it costs more than coal does.

A ton of good coal will last longer and give more satisfaction than several cords of wood. A ton of famous will give more satisfaction than a carload of poor coal and is a more economical fuel. This is a broad statement to make but we can prove in. Raymond City coal is the best on the market for the price. If you give us your orders now we will supply you with enough Raymond City coal to last until spring at $3.50 per ton. If you delay it will cost you more later on.

All orders received now will be promptly and satisfactorily filled.

SEEING AMERICA.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 23rd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a light difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania Lines.

CERTAIN RESULTS.

Many a Seymour Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Seymour. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical doubter. Read the following statement:

Samuel Buhner of St. Louis avenue, tobaccoist, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble which had caused much annoyance and suffering. I had lameness in my back, especially acute when I brought any strain on the muscles of my loins and there was also a bladder difficulty. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, sold by C. W. Milbous druggists, I procured a box and almost at once obtained positive relief. I had previously tried many other remedies but never found anything to equal Doan's Kidney Pills. I can strongly recommend them to others."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

A FINE COMPLIMENT

Congressman Watson's Oratorical Ability Receives Recognition.

Indianapolis, Aug. 11.—Congressman James E. Watson of Rushville has turned down an offer from a lecture bureau of $10,000 for a 100-days' lecture tour next year. The offer is probably the finest of the kind ever made to an Indiana congressman—at least in recent years, and it is regarded as a high compliment to Congressman Watson. Many of his followers don't understand why he turned down an opportunity for so much "easy money," as $10,000 for 100 days' work looks as big as a mountain to most people, but one of his friends here said today that Mr. Watson did not care to take that much time away from his congressional duties. It would have also interfered with his law business. Mr. Watson's reputation as a public orator has grown very rapidly during the last few years.

It is cold comfort to the representatives of the protesting corporations are getting from the members of the state board of tax commissioners in their arguments for a reduction of the valuations made at the first session. The members of the board are courteous, of course, and give all the tax agents a careful hearing, but it is not believed that many reductions will be made. The members seem "loaded for bear" whenever a tax agent presents a fresh reason why the valuation should be lowered. For instance, when Charles S. Bash, president of the Home Telephone company of Fort Wayne, appeared to ask for a reduction, Governor Hanly met him with a report of his own company showing that the earnings justified even a larger valuation than had been made. The governor asked him if the plant, according to the earnings, was not worth at least $250,000. Mr. Bash was caught in a trap for he had to admit that it was. Inasmuch as the valuation fixed by the board was but $132,000, the members made Mr. Bash's appeal look inconsistent. They have gone at other tax agents in the same manner, indicating that they do not look very favorably on their efforts.

The first case to test the Moore law under which a remonstrance may be filed against applicants for retail liquor license in a ward or township has reached the appellate court from Benton county. Judge Rabb of Williamsport held that the board of county commissioners had no authority to grant a license to any applicant for two years where a blanket remonstrance has been filed. George Sanaack, the applicant, appealed from his decision. The ruling of the higher court will determine whether or not the new law is constitutional.

The members of the commission appointed by Governor Hanly to select a site for the proposed epileptic village, for which an appropriation was made by the last legislature, met here this afternoon and arranged to visit all the sites offered. The various places wanting the institution are Huntington, Winamac, Mishawaka, Monon, Monticello, Spencer, Crawfordville, Rockville, Logansport, Shoals, Henryville, Paoli, San Pierre, Hamlet, North Judson and Connersville.

Peter Motor Car Race.

Baden-Baden, Aug. 16.—Two children were killed during the motor car race held here on Sunday. The accident occurred while the car was rounding a corner.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest of the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25c; large size, 75c. For sale by W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Reward will be paid to any person who can find one atom of opium, chloral, morphine, cocaine, ether or chloroform in any form in any of Dr. Miles' Remedies.

This reward is offered because certain unscrupulous persons make false statements about these remedies. It is understood that this reward applies only to goods purchased in the open market, which have not been tampered with in any way.

Dr. Miles' remedies cure by their soothing, nourishing, strengthening and invigorating effects upon the nervous system, and not by paralyzing and weakening the nerves as would be the case if these drugs were used.

For this reason Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are universally considered the best pain remedy. "I have suffered for 25 years with severe pains in my head, heart and back and have tried everything. I could get and could not find any relief until I got a box of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I suffered as long as 12 hours at a time with such severe pains that I feared I would lose my mind. The Anti-Pain Pills gave me relief in from 10 to 20 minutes. I do not have to use Morphine any more. I wish you would publish this so that other sufferers may find relief."

OFFICIAL REPORTS

Government Gets Word Regarding Chinese Boycott.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Dispatches received at the state department from China show that Shanghai is the only place where the boycott against American goods has assumed anything like a serious aspect. At Canton the movement has made some headway, but at other points it has not been successful. This information was supplied in response to instructions sent some days ago to Minister Rockhill and the consular officers in China to keep the state department advised as to the progress of the boycott. One dispatch on this subject was not made public at the state department, but sent to the president at Oyster Bay.

A Retaliatory Measure.

San Francisco, Aug. 16.—J. W. Davidson, acting consul general at Shanghai, who has just arrived from the Orient, says that the cause of the Chinese boycott is the discourteous treatment which the sons of influential Chinese officials have received at the hands of immigration officials on landing at San Francisco.

Going After the Stanoaru.

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 16.—Attorney General H. S. Hadly and Frank Blake, one of his assistants left today for Cleveland, O., and thence to New York to look up evidence in the suit against the Standard Oil company. Mr. Hadly will seek not only to impose a heavy fine upon the company, but to oust it from its franchise as a corporation in Missouri, and to withdraw its privilege to do business in this

A BETTER HARBOR

Will Be Given to Michigan City Under Pending Plans.

REDUCING THE BEND

Channel Will Be Widened by Cutting of a Point in the Bend of the Harbor.

An Appropriation of $45,000 Was Made by Congress for This Work.

Michigan City, Ind., Aug. 16.—Col. M. B. Adams of the United States corps of engineers at Grand Rapids, has opened bids for cutting off a point in a bend of the harbor in this city, making the channel at that place more than 400 feet wide. Of four bids received the lowest was that of the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company of Chicago, at $12,850.

These bids have been forwarded to the war department at Washington, and the successful bidder will be required to begin the work in ten days after the bid has been accepted by the department and a contract entered into with the government. An appropriation of $45,000 was made by congress for this work, and the money is now available. The point which is to be dredged away is a hindrance to navigation, owing to a sharp turn which boats have to make in entering or leaving the harbor.

MUST NOT VIOLATE THE LAW

Trouble in Store for Princeton Man Who Visit Vincennes.

Vincennes, Ind., Aug. 16.—The arrest and fining of John Richter, twenty-three years old, at Princeton, on the charge of having cigarettes on his person, may result in much business for the courts of both Princeton and Vincennes. Richter, with a number of baseball fans, went to Princeton to attend a bill game, and after the game started to roll a cigarette. An officer saw him and placed him under arrest. Richter's fine was $34.75, and not having the money to pay it, was placed in jail. Friends, however, came to his rescue, paid the money and secured his release. The victim of the arrest is very popular here, and local officers are now besieged with requests to arrest every Princeton man who expectorates on a Vincennes sidewalk or has cigarettes in his possession. As Princeton is to send a large delegation here to attend the Labor Day celebration, Richter's friends will insist that the police see that not a Princeton visitor violates a law of any description.

Engine Wreck's Depl.

Rushville, Ind., Aug. 16.—An east-bound C. & I. D. passenger train collided with a southbound Pennsylvania local freight at the station here. No one was killed, but several people were bruised and slightly injured. Many people had narrow escapes from instant death. The two engines ran into each other at the crossing, which is almost at right angles and about ten feet from the C. & I. D. depot. The Pennsylvania engine was forced off the track and jumped into the depot, reducing that structure to ruins. Several passengers were in the depot, and, realizing that an accident was to happen, escaped by climbing through a rear window. Several passengers on the platform also escaped.

Sheriff's Quest Futile.

Greencastle, Ind., Aug. 16.—Frank McCannick, who was wounded by Forrest McCannick, his cousin, in a fight at a dance near Bell Union, is still alive, but has never regained consciousness, and his recovery is doubtful. Sheriff Mazze, who went to Bell Union for Forrest McCannick, returned to this city without his man. Forrest disappeared upon receipt of word of the sheriff's approach.

Carnival Company Avoids Trouble.

Michigan City, Ind., Aug. 16.—Because the police board of this city threatened the managers of a carnival company with arrest if they attempted to erect their tents on the streets in this city, the carnival company canceled the date, notwithstanding the fact that the protection of the mayor, common council and board of public works was assured.

Earned on Trial Trip.

Sullivan, Ind., Aug. 16.—State Senator Raphael T. Thrall and John Patterson, both of Hymara, purchased a new automobile. They started to Sullivan on a trial trip and when nearly to Sullivan gasoline leaked from the tank and set the machine on fire, completely destroying it.

Burns Terminate Fatally.

Kokomo, Ind., Aug. 16.—Mrs. George W. Sharp, who was burned Sunday evening while preparing coffee at a picnic at Indian Springs, west of this city, is dead. She retained consciousness almost to the end and had full realization of the approach of death.

Death From Pistol Wound.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 16.—George E. Hosler, a prominent wholesale grocer, is dead from wounds received by the accidental discharge of a revolver.
